Excerpt from A Bibliography of Sir Walter Raleigh Knt The following attempt at the formation of a bibliography of the works written by or relating to Sir Walter Raleigh will perhaps be thought by some to embrace a much wider field than might be necessary and so no doubt it would be if a bibliography of the county of Devon were followed on the same lines But where an individual or a place is selected as its subject the enlarged plan appears to possess many advantages It presents a favourable opportunity of giving additional particulars and of adding extended notes to the various works noticed so as to make it of more practical value By pointing out the dates titles etc of any reprints references are facilitated and by bringing into association a larger number of works under the same heading than would be advisable or practicable in the instance of a general work on the county there results not simply a barren record of the titles of works but a kind of connected literary history of the subject chosen That such a plan carried out with respect to other individuals etc would be of future service to county and other bibliographers can scarcely be denied About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
