A Brush With Death An Artist In The Death Camps:

A Brush with Death Morris Wyszogrod, 2012-02-01 In this memoir Morris Wyszogrod recounts his experiences from the time of the Nazi invasion of Poland to the liberation of the Theresienstadt concentration camp in 1945 He describes in detail the time he spent in the Warsaw Ghetto his work as an artist for various Luftwaffe personnel at the Warsaw military airport his experiences at the Budzyn concentration camp where he was assigned to decorate the living quarters of the SS and to produce drawings at an orgiastic Oktoberfest his removal to Plaszow where he was put to work digging up mass graves and burning the bodies to eliminate the evidence of Nazi war crimes his witnessing of the firebombing of Dresden in February 1945 and his subsequent liberation at Theresienstadt by the Red Army in May 1945 Just as an artist may register what she or he sees against a sensitive visual and moral template so Wyszogrod doubly registered what he saw and felt both in his drawings and in his memories

The United States Holocaust Memorial Museum Encyclopedia of Camps and Ghettos, 1933-1945: Volume I Geoffrey P. Megargee, 2009-05-22 Winner of the National Jewish Book Award This valuable resource covers an aspect of the Holocaust rarely addressed and never in such detail Library Journal This is the first volume in a monumental seven volume encyclopedia reflecting years of work by the Jack Joseph and Morton Mandel Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum which will describe the universe of camps and ghettos many thousands more than previously known that the Nazis and their allies operated from Norway to North Africa and from France to Russia For the first time a single reference work will provide detailed information on each individual site This first volume covers three groups of camps the early camps that the Nazis established in the first year of Hitler's rule the major SS concentration camps with their constellations of subcamps and the special camps for Polish and German children and adolescents Overview essays provide context for each category while each camp entry provides basic information about the site's purpose prisoners guards working and living conditions and key events in the camp's history Material from personal testimonies helps convey the character of the site while source citations provide a path to additional information

The Holocaust and the Postmodern Robert Eaglestone, 2004-12-09 Robert Eaglestone argues that postmodernism is a response to the Holocaust He offers a range of new perspectives including new ways of looking at testimony and at and recent Holocaust fiction explores controversies in Holocaust history looks at the importance of the Holocaust for recent philosophy and asks what the Holocaust means for reason ethics and for being human

Re-examining the Holocaust through Literature Aukje Kluge, Benn E. Williams, 2009-03-26 In the late 1980s Holocaust literature emerged as a provocative but poorly defined scholarly field The essays in this volume reflect the increasingly international and pluridisciplinary nature of this scholarship and the widening of the definition of Holocaust literature to include comic books fiction film and poetry as well as the more traditional diaries memoirs and journals Ten contributors from four countries engage issues of authenticity evangelicalism morality representation personal experience and wish fulfillment in Holocaust systematic development of research questions and methods Artistic Bedfellows Holly Crawford, 2008-09-17 Artistic Bedfellows is an international interdisciplinary collection of historical essays critical papers case studies interviews and comments from scholars and practitioners that shed new light on the growing field of collaborative art This collection examines the field of collaborative art broadly while asking specific questions with regard to the issues of interdisciplinary and cultural difference as well as the psychological and political complexity of collaboration The diversity of approach is needed in the current multimedia and cross disciplinarily world of art This reader is designed to stimulate thought and discussion for anyone interested in this growing field and practice Bearing Witness Philip Rosen, Nina Apfelbaum, 2001-11-30 This resource guide will help readers locate over 800 first person accounts fiction poetry art interpretations and music by Holocaust victims and survivors as well as videos relating the testimony and experiences of Holocaust survivors In addition to the few well known writers artists and musicians whose work so eloquently captures their experience during the Holocaust this guide will introduce the reader to the lives and work of more than 250 lesser known or unrecognized writers artists and musicians from many countries who documented their experience of persecution at the hands of the Nazis This guide will help students gain firsthand knowledge of what it was like to experience the Holocaust and how ordinary people coped and created art and meaning from the ashes of their lives The entry on each writer artist and musician features a biographical sketch and list of his or her works with full bibliographic data Entries on literature and videos are annotated and include recommendations for age appropriateness The work is divided into five parts writers of memoirs diaries and fiction poets artists composers and musicians and videos that feature testimony by survivors Each part features an introductory overview of the artists and art created in that genre out of Holocaust experience Title artist writer and nationality indexes will help the reader select materials and an index organized by age appropriate levels will help teachers and librarians to select literature and videos for students Representing the Holocaust Sue Vice, 2003 Focusing upon central issues in Holocaust studies this collection of essays by British scholars charts British concerns surrounding the Holocaust It also honours the academic Bryan Burns and the work he carried out on the Holocaust Nazi History and the Holocaust , 1999 Between Nazis and Soviets Marek Jan Chodakiewicz, 2004-01-01 Between 1939 and 1947 the county of Jan w Lubelski an agricultural area in central Poland experienced successive occupations by Nazi Germany 1939 1944 and the Soviet Union 1944 1947 During each period the population including the Polish majority and the Jewish Ukrainian and German minorities reacted with a combination of accommodation collaboration and resistance In this remarkably detailed and revealing study Marek Jan Chodakiewicz analyzes and describes the responses of the inhabitants of occupied Jan w to the policies of the ruling powers He provides a highly useful typology of response to occupation defining collaboration as an active relationship with the occupiers for reasons of self interest and to the detriment of one s neighbors resistance as passive and active opposition and accommodation as compliance falling between the two extremes He focuses on the ways in which these reactions influenced relations between individuals between social classes and between ethnic groups Casting new light on social dynamics within occupied Poland during and after World War II Between Nazis and Soviets yields valuable insight for scholars of conflict studies Religion and the Arts ,2001 Religion and the Arts is devoted to the study of this rapidly expanding interdisciplinary field It aims among other things to promote the development of discourses for exploring the religious dimensions of the verbal visual and performing arts After the Holocaust Marek Jan Chodakiewicz,2003 Conventional wisdom holds that Jews killed in Poland immediately after World War II were victims of ubiquitous Polish anti-Semitism This book traces the roots of Polish Jewish conflict after the war demonstrating that it was a two sided phenomenon and not simply an extension of the Holocaust History, Religion, and Meaning Julius Simon,2000-08-30 The Holocaust continues to be a defining event for understanding not only the course of history during the 20th century but the course of human events in general Perhaps the most contentious issue is that of how the Holocaust continues to be understood explained and appropriated The chapters focus on questions arising from the Holocaust and that have to do with the American understandings of the interrelated web of history religion and meaning In addition the contributors from a variety of disciplines express views that range across several dimensions of receptivity and both support and challenge other views of how the Holocaust should be commemorated and or historically situated The chapters included in this volume demonstrate that the ongoing rethinking and integrating of memories and questions from and on the Holocaust result in ever new ethical orientations and demands that continue to affect religious praxis and the work of historians They deal both explicitly and implicitly with how the Holocaust has been understood or misunderstood The contributors write from across the disciplinary boundaries of philosophy theology history aesthetics and political science and raise important ethical issues while providing fresh perspectives from both established and emerging scholars This unique cross disciplinary approach is an essential addition to the literature on the Holocaust
