

The Eye

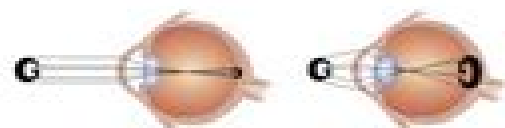

The scleral venous sinus is a structure located at the back of the eye, where the sclera meets the choroid. It is responsible for draining the aqueous humor from the anterior chamber of the eye.

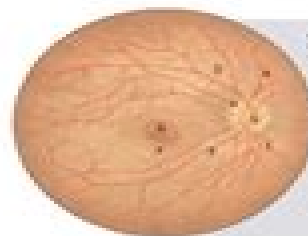

Right eye (medial aspect)

The visual field is the area that can be seen by the eye at any given time. It is determined by the position of the eye and the field of vision. The visual field is divided into the central field of vision and the peripheral field of vision.

Accommodation is the process by which the eye changes its focus to bring near or far objects into sharp focus. It involves the contraction and relaxation of the ciliary muscles and the change in shape of the lens.
