Modern Society Marian G. Kinget, 2000-01-10 The Master Myth of Modern Society extends the late Dr Kinget s life work as professor psychotherapist and author Defining myth as a perennial psycho social phenomenon that expresses an internal compulsion towards understanding the unknown Kinget one of the original humanistic psychologists argues that the rhetoric ideology and mystique surrounding modern science constitutes the master myth of our times She evaluates science as myth in terms of both its beneficial effects and its debilitating qualities Along these lines Kinget views the notion of objectivity as an essential element of this myth noting that the questions we ask and the answers we seek are constantly being reconstructed according to spiritual need With a bibliography of time honored authors this short work can serve as a springboard for further exploration of human beings traditional and modern mentality as expressed in myths society religion and psychological queries Relevant for understanding contemporary society this book will be of value to students of psychology sociology anthropology and integrated social sciences The Tough Alchemy of Ben Okri Rosemary Alice

Zimbabwean Transitions Mbongeni Z. Malaba, Geoffrey V. Davis, 2007 This collection of essays on Zimbabwean literature brings together studies of both Rhodesian and Zimbabwean literature spanning different languages and genres It charts the at times painful process of the evolution of Rhodesian Zimbabwean identities that was shaped by pre colonial colonial and post colonial realities The hybrid nature of the society emerges as different writers endeavour to make sense of their world Two essays focus on the literature of the white settler The first distils the essence of white settlers alienation from the Africa they purport to civilize revealing the delusional fixations of the racist mindset that permeates the discourse of the white man s burden in imperial narratives The second takes up the theme of alienation found in settler discourse showing how the collapse of the white supremacists dream when southern African countries gained independence left many settlers caught up in a profound identity crisis Four essays are devoted to Ndebele writing They focus on the praise poetry composed for kings Mzilikazi and Lobengula the preponderance of historical themes in Ndebele literature the dilemma that lies at the heart of the modern Ndebele identity and the fossilized views on gender roles found in the works of leading Ndebele novelists both female and male The essays on English language writing chart the predominantly negative view of women found in the fiction of Stanley Nyamfukudza assess the destabilization of masculine identities in post colonial Zimbabwe evaluate the complex vision of life and reality in Charles Mungoshi s short stories as exemplified in the tragic isolation of many of his protagonists and explore Dambudzo Marechera s obsession with isolated threatened individuals in his hitherto generally neglected dramas The development of Shona writing is surveyed in two articles the first traces its development from its origins as a colonial educational tool to the more critical works of the post 1980 independence phase the second turns the spotlight on written drama from 1968 when plays seemed divorced from the everyday realities of people s lives to more recent work which engages with corruption and the perversion of the moral order The volume also includes an illuminating interview with Irene Staunton the former publisher of Baobab Books and now of Weaver Press

Toward a Poetics of Genesis 1-11 Daniel D. Lowery, 2013-04-15 Daniel Lowery commences this work by suggesting that history is a subjective enterprise it is controlled by those who record it The power of the present decides what is counted as history and how the rest of us are told about the past shapes our view of it and concomitantly our outlook for the future In this sense then history fundamentally shapes the future Few questions are more basic to human existence than Who am I Where did I come from What is my place in this world The earliest chapters of Genesis have oriented hearers and readers for millennia in their attempts to address these concerns And so in several respects Genesis shapes the future In this study Lowery sets out to understand more accurately ancient Near Eastern language and claims about origins specifically claims found in Gen 1 11 He uses Gen 4 17 22 as a test case representing the Hebrew tradition explaining how the world came to be civilized Lowery observes that this passage serves a function within the larger narrative of Gen 1 11

akin to other ancient Near Eastern traditions of civilized beginnings Moreover it occupies a place in the overarching narrative of beginnings corresponding to what we find elsewhere throughout the ancient world Lowery focuses mainly on Mesopotamia leaving other cultures for later study This study aims to demonstrate that much of the language of Gen 1 11 is similar in many ways to its Mesopotamian counterparts More explicitly here is an exploration of the nature of the language and terms of Gen 1 11 to ascertain what truths it communicates and how it communicates them At its core this is a study of the genre and generic claims of protohistory as found in Gen 1 11
