Andre Gide And Romain Rolland Two Men Divided Two Men Divided:

André Gide and Romain Rolland: Two Men Divided Frederick John Harris, 1973 On the contrasting political and esthetic views of the two writers who held a tenuous friendship rk Romain Rolland and the Politics of the Intellectual Engagement David Fisher, 2017-07-05 This intellectual portrait of Romain Rolland 1866 1944 French novelist musicologist dramatist and Nobel prizewinner in 1915 focuses on his experiments with political commitment against the backdrop of European history between the two world wars Best known as a biographer of Beethoven and for his novel Jean Christophe Rolland was one of those nonconforming writers who perceived a crisis of bourgeois society in Europe before the Great War and who consciously worked to discredit and reshape that society in the interwar period Analyzing Rolland's itinerary of engaged stands David James Fisher clarifies aspects of European cultural history and helps decipher the ambiguities at the heart of all forms of intellectual engagement Moving from text to context Fisher organizes the book around a series of debates Rolland's public and private collisions over specific committed stands introducing the reader to the polemical style of French intellectual discourse and offering insight into what it means to be a responsible intellectual Fisher presents Rolland's private ruminations extensive research and reexamination of the function and style of the French man of letters He observes that Rolland experimented with five styles of commitment oceanic mysticism linked to progressive democratic politics free thinking linked to antiwar dissent pacifism and ultimately Gandhism antifacism linked to anti imperialism antiracism and all out political resistance to fascism and most controversially fellow traveling as a form of socialist humanism and the positive side of antifascism Fisher views Rolland's engagement historically and critically showing that engaged intellectuals of that time were neither naive propagandists nor dupes of political parties David James Fisher makes a case for the committed writer and hopes to re ignite the debate about commitment For him Romain Rolland sums up engagement in a striking dialectical formula André Gide Alan Sheridan, 1999 Sheridan presents a literary biography of one of the most important writers of the 20th century an intimate portrait of the reluctantly public man whose work was deeply and inextricably entangled with his life 35 halftones Showcasing the Great Experiment Michael David-Fox, 2012-01-12 Showcasing the Great Experiment provides the most far reaching account of Soviet methods of cultural diplomacy innovated to influence Western intellectuals and foreign visitors Probing the declassified records of agencies charged with crafting the international image of communism it reinterprets one of the great cross cultural and trans ideological encounters of the twentieth century Sexual Dissidence Jonathan Dollimore, 2018-09-19 Why is homosexuality socially marginal yet symbolically central Why in other words is it so strangely integral to the very societies which obsessively denounce it and why is it history history rather than human nature which has produced this paradoxical position These are just some of the questions explored in this wide ranging study of sexual dissidence which returns to the early modern period in order to focus question and develop issues of postmodernity In the process it brilliantly links writers as diverse as Shakespeare Gide Wilde and Genet and cultural critics as different as St Augustine Freud Fanon Foucault and Monique Wittig So Freud's theory of perversion is discovered to be more challenging than either his critics or his advocates usually allow especially when approached via the earlier period's archetypal perverts the religious heretic and the wayward woman Satan and Eve The book further shows how the literature histories and sub cultures of sexual and gender dissidence prove remarkably illuminating for current debates in literary theory psychoanalysis and cultural materialism It includes chapters on transgression and its containment contemporary theories of sexual difference homophobia the gay sensibility transvestite literature in the culture and theatre of Renaissance England homosexuality and race Theatre, Politics, and Markets in Fin-de-Siècle Paris S. Charnow, 2016-09-23 Since the Enlightenment French theatre has occupied a prominent place within French thought society and culture but as a subject of study it has remained a purview of theatre historians literary scholars and aestheticians They focus on the emergence of the modern theatre as change generated from within bourgeois literary drama but ignore theatre as a complex social practice Theatre Politics and Markets in Fin de Siècle Paris investigates the dynamic relationships among the avant garde official culture and the commercial sphere arguing against the neat divide of high and low culture by showing how cultural forms of varying social origins influenced each other British and French Writers of the First World War Frank Field, 1991-01-25 The impact of the Great War on some of France and Britain's most prominent writers Crossing Borders Michael David-Fox, 2015-05-19 Crossing Borders deconstructs contemporary theories of Soviet history from the revolution through the Stalin period and offers new interpretations based on a transnational perspective To Michael David Fox Soviet history was shaped by interactions across its borders By reexamining conceptions of modernity ideology and cultural transformation he challenges the polarizing camps of Soviet exceptionalism and shared modernity and instead strives for a theoretical and empirical middle ground as the basis for a creative and richly textured analysis Discussions of Soviet modernity have tended to see the Soviet state either as an archaic holdover from the Russian past or as merely another form of conventional modernity David Fox instead considers the Soviet Union in its own light as a seismic shift from tsarist society that attracted influential visitors from the pacifist Left to the fascist Right By reassembling Russian legacies as he shows the Soviet system evolved into a complex intelligentsia statist form that introduced an array of novel agendas and practices many embodied in the unique structures of the party state Crossing Borders demonstrates the need for a new interpretation of the Russian Soviet historical trajectory one that strikes a balance between the particular and the universal Aaron Copland and His World Carol J. Oja, Judith Tick, 2018-06-05 Aaron Copland and His World reassesses the legacy of one of America's best loved composers at a pivotal moment as his life and work shift from the realm of personal memory to that of history This collection of seventeen essays by distinguished scholars of American music explores the stages of cultural change on which Copland's long life 1900 to 1990 unfolded from the modernist experiments of the 1920s through the progressive populism of the Great Depression and the urgencies of World War II to postwar political backlash and the rise of serialism in the 1950s and the cultural turbulence of the 1960s. Continually responding to an ever changing political and cultural panorama Copland kept a firm focus on both his private muse and the public he served. No self absorbed recluse he was very much a public figure who devoted his career to building support systems to help composers function productively in America. This book critiques Copland's work in these shifting contexts. The topics include Copland's role in shaping an American school of modern dance his relationship with Leonard Bernstein his homosexuality especially as influenced by the writings of Andr  Gide and explorations of cultural nationalism. Copland's rich correspondence with the composer and critic Arthur Berger who helped set the parameters of Copland's reception is published here in its entirety edited by Wayne Shirley. The contributors include Emily Abrams Paul Anderson Elliott Antokoletz Leon Botstein Martin Brody Elizabeth Crist Morris Dickstein Lynn Garafola Melissa de Graaf Neil Lerner Gail Levin Beth Levy Vivian Perlis Howard Pollack and Larry Starr.

Under the Shadow of War Larry Ceplair, 1987

Although deconstruction has become a popular catchword as an intellectual movement it has never entirely caught on within the university. For some in the academy deconstruction and Jacques Derrida in particular are responsible for the demise of accountability in the study of literature. Countering these facile dismissals of Derrida and deconstruction Herman Rapaport explores the incoherence that has plagued critical theory since the 1960s and the resulting legitimacy crisis in the humanities. Against the backdrop of a rich informed discussion of Derrida's writings and how they have been misconstrued by critics and admirers alike The Theory Mess investigates the vicissitudes of Anglo American criticism over the past thirty years and proposes some possibilities for reform.

BOOK JACKET Primitive Passions Marianna Torgovnick, 1998-10

In this provocative and illuminating book Marianna Torgovnick explores the psychology of our profound attraction to cultures we call primitive. Whether located in Africa the South Pacific or the American Southwest the primitive has become synonymous in the Western imagination with a range of emotions and experiences thought to be lost in modern life reverence for the land and for nature strong communal bonds sexual plenitude and perhaps most intriguing and ecstatic sense of connection to the universe and the life force. Torgovnick investigates the numerous ways we have turned toward the primitive out of spiritual hunger for such deeply human experiences a hunger that could once be satisfied within the West's own mystical traditions but that often no longer can be. Brilliantly encompassing religion art psychology literature and other aspects of our culture Primitive Passions offers new insight into our ideas of spirituality and gender and ultimately into the hidden but vital parts of ourselves.
