2012 Competition Annual:

2012 Competitions Annual Collyer G. S.,Collectif,2013-12-01 The 2012 Competitions Annual is a comprehensive volume dedicated to some of the more interesting competitions that have taken place during the past year This 240 page full colour book represents a broad spectrum of design competitions that were featured on the COMPETITIONS website www.competitions.org The content includes The New Keelung Harbour Service Building Competition Aberdeen City Garden Competition Oceanside High School Performing Arts Centre Seattle Centre Urban Interventions Competition The Kaohsiung Maritime Cultural Music Centre Musee National des Beaux Arts du Quebec and many others Market Design Powers of the European Commission? Korbinian Reiter,2020-02-06 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the remedies practice the European Commission has adopted on the basis of articles 7 and 9 of regulation 1 03 Using article 7 as a normative benchmark it shows that most of the criticism levelled at the Commission s article 9 decisions and the Alrosa judgment of the CJEU is not justified since critics tend to over state both the rigour of article 7 and the laxness of article 9 Remaining inconsistencies between the commitment practice and the standards for infringement decisions can it is submitted be justified by the consensual nature of commitment decisions and their underlying goal of procedural economy Moreover it is suggested that too little importance is generally assigned to the beneficial effect which commitments bring about by providing for precise and enforceable obligations without sacrificing the concerned undertakings freedom to choose how to put the infringement to an end Adopting a case oriented approach this study provides valuable insights for academics and practitioners alike Abuse of Dominant Position and Globalization & Protection and Disclosure of Trade Secrets and Know-How Pranvera Këllezi,Bruce Kilpatrick,Pierre Kobel,2017-05-05 This publication provides an unparalleled comparative analysis of two hot topics in the field of antitrust and unfair competition law with regard to a number of key countries The first part of the book examines the prohibition of abuse of a dominant position and globalization in relation to two broad questions first whether there is consistency between the approaches of different jurisdictions to the notion of abuse and second whether there are too many restrictions on legal rights and business opportunities resulting from the prohibition of abuse of dominance The international report drafted by Professor Pinar Akman reveals that there are as many similarities as differences between the approaches of the twenty one jurisdictions studied and presented in this book This is an invitation to read the excellent international report as well as the reports on specific jurisdictions in order to grasp the variety of arguments and approaches of this antitrust area which may on the surface appear alike The second part gathers contributions on the question of protection and disclosure of trade secrets and know how from various jurisdictions The need for adequate protection of trade secrets has increased due to digitalization and the ease with which large volumes of misappropriated information can be reproduced The comprehensive international report prepared by Henrik Bengtsson brings together these reflections by comparing various national positions The book also discusses the resolutions passed by the General Assembly of the International League of Competition Law LIDC following a debate on each of these topics and includes proposed solutions and recommendations

The Criminalization of European Cartel Enforcement Peter Whelan, 2014-08-07 Cartel activity is prohibited under EU law by virtue of Article 101 1 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union Firms that violate this provision face severe punishment from those entities responsible for enforcing EU competition law the European Commission the national competition authorities and the national courts Stiff fines are regularly imposed on firms by these entities such firm focused punishment is an established feature of the antitrust enforcement landscape within the EU In recent years however focus has also been placed on the individuals within the firms responsible for the cartel activity It is increasingly recognized that punishment for cartel activity should be individual focused as well as firm focused Accordingly a growing tendency to criminalize cartel activity can be observed in the EU Member States The existence of such criminal sanctions within the EU presents a number of crucial challenges that need to be met if the underlying enforcement objectives are to be achieved in practice without violating prevailing legal norms For a start given the severe consequences of a custodial sentence the employment of criminal antitrust punishment must be justifiable in principle one must have a robust normative framework rationalizing the existence of criminal cartel sanctions Second for it to be legitimate antitrust criminalization should only occur in a manner that respects the mandatory legalities applicable to the European jurisdiction in question These include the due process rights of the accused and the principle of legal certainty Finally the correct practical measures such as a criminal leniency policy and a correctly defined criminal cartel offence need to be in place in order to ensure that the employment of criminal antitrust punishment actually achieves its aims while maintaining its legitimacy These three particular challenges can be conceptualized respectively as the theoretical legal and practical challenges of European antitrust criminalization This book analyses these three crucial challenges so that the complexity of the process of European antitrust criminalization can be understood more accurately In doing so this book acknowledges that the three challenges should not be considered in isolation In fact there is a dynamic relationship between the theoretical legal and practical challenges of European antitrust criminalization and an effective antitrust criminalization policy is one which recognizes and respects this complex interaction

Law Enforcement by EU Authorities Miroslava Scholten, Michiel Luchtman, 2017-11-24 EU law and governance have faced a new development the proliferation of EU enforcement authorities which have grown in number over the last 15 years

These entities either acting alone or together with national enforcement authorities have been investigating and sanctioning private actors on their compliance with EU law. Law Enforcement by EU Authorities investigates whether the system of control in terms of both judicial and political accountability has evolved to support the new system of law enforcement in the EU.

EU Cartel Enforcement Andreas Scordamaglia-Tousis, 2013-08-01 There has been a long standing debate on the compatibility of EU competition law with fundamental rights protection particularly as the latter is enshrined in the due process requirements of the European Convention on Human Rights ECHR. This book a signal contribution to that debate assesses two questions of paramount concern first whether the current level of fundamental rights protection in cartel enforcement falls within the accepted ECHR standards and second how the often conflicting objectives of effectiveness and adequate protection of fundamental rights could optimally be achieved. Following a detailed survey of relevant EU institutional substantive and procedural law rules the author offers a set of persuasive normative responses to both questions. Proceeding from an in depth analysis of the pertinent rights and legal nature of competition proceedings under EU and ECHR law the author goes on to examine such elements of the perceived incompatibility as the following: investigatory powers vested in competition authorities the privilege against self incrimination right to privacy fair trial probatory requirements degree of use of presumptions in EU practice Article 6 ECHR guarantees pertaining to the presumption of innocence proving coordination of competitive behaviour proving restriction of competition admissibility of evidence before EU Courts and the Commission assessment of the attribution of liability rules EU fining rules judicial review of cartel decisions by EU Courts and national sanctioning rules. The author's extraordinarily thorough presentation is rounded off with a remarkably comprehensive bibliography that lists in addition to books and articles newspaper articles EU regulations and directives soft law guidelines and best practices EU and ECtHR case law EU Advocate General opinions European Commission decisions and European Ombudsman decisions. General conclusions stress the necessity of introducing further reforms to enhance the effectiveness and legitimacy of fundamental rights in the context of competition proceedings. Few books have taken such a thorough and far reaching approach to the reconciliation of effective public enforcement and fundamental rights or of effective deterrence with the principles of legality non retroactivity presumption of innocence and ne bis in idem. In the depth of its appraisal of the entire spectrum of enforcement components from a fundamental rights perspective the book is without peers. It will be warmly welcomed by any parties interested in the intersection of competition law and human rights.

Approaches to Plant Evolutionary Ecology G.P. Cheplick,2015-06-01 Plant evolutionary ecology is a rapidly growing discipline which emphasizes that populations adapt and evolve not in isolation but in relation to other species and abiotic environmental features such as climate Although it departs from traditional evolutionary and ecological fields of study the field is connected to branches of ecology genetics botany conservation and to a number of other fields of applied science primarily through shared concepts and techniques However most books regarding evolutionary ecology focus on animals creating a substantial need for scholarly literature with an emphasis on plants Approaches to Plant Evolutionary Ecology is the first book to specifically explore the evolutionary characteristics of plants filling the aforementioned gap in the literature on evolutionary ecology Renowned plant ecologist Gregory P Cheplick summarizes and synthesizes much of the primary literature regarding evolutionary ecology providing a historical context for the study of plant populations from an evolutionary perspective The book also provides summaries of both traditional common gardens reciprocal transplants and modern molecular genetic approaches used to address questions about plant adaptation to a diverse group of abiotic and biotic factors Cheplick provides a rigorously written introduction to the rapidly growing field of plant evolutionary ecology

Education under Siege Mortimore, Peter, 2013-09-23 At a time when education is considered crucial to a country's economic success recent UK governments have insisted their reforms are the only way to make England's system world class Yet pupils are tested rather than educated teachers bullied rather than trusted and parents cast as winners or losers in a gamble for school places Education under siege considers the English education system as it is and as it might be In a highly accessible style Peter Mortimore an author with wide experience of the education sector both in the UK and abroad identifies the current system's strengths and weaknesses He concludes that England has some of the best teachers in the world but one of the most muddled systems Challenging the government's view that there is no alternative he proposes radical changes to help all schools become good schools They include a system of schools receiving a fair balance of pupils who learn easily and those who do not ensuring a more even spread of effective teachers as well as banning league tables outlawing selection opening up faith schools and integrating private schools into the state system In the final chapter he asks readers who share his concerns to demand that the politicians alter course The book will appeal to parents education students and teachers as well as everyone interested in the future education of our children
