Jahre mit Christine Dorothea Kleine,1988 Strikes around the world Sjaak Velden,Heiner Dribbusch,Kurt VanDaele,2025-10-01 Are strikes going out of fashion or are they an inevitable feature of working life This is a longstanding debate The much proclaimed withering away of the strike in the 1950s was quickly overturned by the resurgence of class conflict in the late 1960s and 1970s The period since then has been characterized as one of labor quiescence Commentators again predict the strike s demise at least in the former heartlands of capitalism Patterns of employment are constantly changing and strike activity reflects this The secular decline of manufacturing in mature industrialized economies is of major importance here though the global relocation of manufacturing may lead to some relocation of strikes Simultaneously we see the growth of disputes in the service sector the tertiarization of strikes This is evident particularly in public services including health care social care and education and is accompanied by a feminization of strikes given the prevalence of women working there This unique study draws on the experience of fifteen countries around the world South Africa Argentina Canada Mexico United States Korea Australia New Zealand Belgium Denmark France Germany the Netherlands Sweden and the United Kingdom Covering the high and low points of strike activity over the period 1968 2005 the study shows continuing evidence of the durability adaptability and necessity of the strike Fighting Deindustrialisation Andy Clark,2022-09-15 In Fighting Deindustrialisation Andy Clark outlines and examines one of the most significant and under researched periods in modern Scottish labour history Over a fourteen month period in 1981 and 1982 as Scotland suffered the effects of the accelerated deindustrialisation of its economy three workforces refused to accept the loss of their jobs The predominantly women assembly workers at Lee Jeans Greenock Lovable Bra Cumbernauld and Plessey Capacitors Bathgate were informed that their multinational employers had taken the decisions to close their plants At each site a battle was fought against capital movement corporate greed and unfair jobloss The workers occupied their factories and refused to vacate until their demands were met and closure avoided At all sites this objective was achieved none of the factories completely closed following the women s occupations In this book these occupations are analysed together for the first time through a range of analytical frameworks from oral history memory studies industrial relations scholarship and deindustrialisation studies In his extensive examination Clark argues that the actions of 1981 82 should be considered as one of the most significant periods in Scotland s history of deindustrialisation However the public memory of 1981 82 is precarious Fighting Deindustrialisation begins the process of incorporating women s militant resistance within academic and popular understandings of working class activism in later 20th century Scotland The Industrial Law Journal ,1990 Industrial law journal provides comment and in depth analysis on a wide range of topics relating to employment law Its scope includes coverage of newly enacted legislation and proposals for law reform Industrial law journal also carries commentary on relevant government publications and reviews of books relating to labor law Forthcoming Books Rose Army,1987

Dandaneau, 1996-04-11 Hometown to both General Motors and the United Auto Workers and the setting for the documentary film Roger and Me Flint Michigan is a striking example of a declining city in America's Rust Belt A Town Abandoned examines Flint's response to its own social and economic decline and at the same time pursues a broad analysis of class and culture in America's late capitalist society It tells the story of how Flint's local institutions and citizens interpret and rationalize their city's massive auto industry job loss and consequent decline and it relates these interpretations to statewide national and international forces that led to the deindustrialization Using a critical theory approach Dandaneau reveals the futility of Flint's efforts to confront essentially global problems and moreover depicts the disturbing conceptual and cultural distortions that result from its sustained powerlessness Dandaneau shows that all policy solutions to Flint's problems were in essence public relations solutions and he gives a moving portrayal of the consequences for local communities of the internationalization of American business
