Transforming Health and Social Education to Include a Greater Focus on Public Health Education in the Curriculum Sharon Brownie, Constance Shumba, Louise Ackers, Georgina A.V. Murphy, 2023-12-14 Now more than ever an increased emphasis is needed on educational changes and innovations to effectively prepare health and social service professionals for 21st century practice Earlier work of the Lancet Independent Global Commission has been instrumental in validating the need for curricula change to include a focus on social determinants public health priorities and strategies to sustain healthy communities The need to further strengthen the public health focus within health and social service education has been fuelled by the COVID 19 pandemic and the growing recognition of specific issues challenging society such as that highlighted within the technical report recently released by the World Health Organization recognizing Parkinson s Disease as a public health issue Each is an example of the need to prepare a future health and social service workforce well equipped in responding to major public health issues while contributing to global health and human wellbeing The goal of this Research Topic is to provide additional evidence based contributions to strengthen the public health focus in health and social service education We aim to commission and publish a broad range of works including original research case studies pedagogical innovations curriculum developments program evaluations and debate Military Review, 2013

Professional Journal of the United States Army, 2013 The Systematic Search for Entrepreneurial Discoveries James O. Fiet, 2002-07-30 Entrepreneurs do much more than manage small businesses At the heart of entrepreneurship is the discovery process An idea is conceived and then exploited for profit But if the idea is neither useful nor unique its exploitation will generate only average profits Therefore the idea and the process that leads to its discovery are of the utmost importance to the success of any new venture Can the discovery process be taught or must one be born with the talent to unearth promising opportunities Fiet argues that entrepreneurial discovery can indeed be taught and he proposes a theory of the informational elements that constitute the discovery process Entrepreneurship as an academic discipline has often been criticized for lacking intellectual rigor and a theoretical foundation Fiet supplies both in this scholarly book which approaches entrepreneurial competence from an academic perspective There are three primary characteristics of entrepreneurial competence tacit knowledge of an entrepreneur's field of endeavor which can be improved by trial and error the knowledge of decision rules that enable one to make rational informational investments based upon the signals of opportunities and the unequal distribution of entrepreneurial competence among the population Recognizing that entrepreneurs start out at different stages of competence Fiet asserts that anyone can improve using his book as a pedagogical aid This volume fills a void in the entrepreneurship literature which too often is indistinguishable from that which informs courses on small business management
