Maritime Archaeology Lawrence E. Babits,Hans Van Tilburg,2013-11-11 This volume initiates a new series of books on maritime or underwater archaeology and as the editor of the series I welcome its appearance with great excitement It is appropriate that the first book of the series is a collection of articles intended for gradu ate or undergraduate courses in underwater archaeology since the growth in academic opportunities for students is an important sign of the vitality of this subdiscipline The layman will enjoy the book as well Academic and public interest in shipwrecks and other submerged archaeological sites is indicated by a number of factors Every year there are 80 to 90 research papers presented at the Society for Historical Archaeology s Conference on Historical and Underwater Archaeology and the Proceedings are published Public interest is shown by extensive press coverage of shipwreck investigations One of the most important advances in recent years has been the passage of the Abandoned Shipwreck Act of 1987 for the first time providing national level law con cerning underwater archeological sites The legislation has withstood a number of legal challenges by commercial treasure salvors a very hopeful sign for the long term pres ervation of this nonrenewable type of cultural resource The underwater archaeological discoveries of 1995 were particularly noteworthy The Texas Historical Commission discovered the Belle one of La Salle s ships and the CSS Hunley was found by a joint project of South Carolina and a private nonprofit organization called NUMA Archaeology of East Asian Shipbuilding Jun Kimura,2016-04-12 North American Society for Oceanic History John Lyman Book Award in Naval and Maritime Reference Works and Published Primary Sources Honorable Mention In this innovative study Jun Kimura integrates historical data with archaeological findings to examine a wide array of eleventh through nineteenth century ships from China Korea and Japan Chinese junks and Japanese sailing ships were known throughout the world and this work illustrates why their innovative designs have survived the centuries Kimura presents an extensive dataset of excavated coastal and oceangoing ships that traveled the Yellow Sea the East China Sea and the South China Sea Three detailed case studies include the Shinan and Quanzhou wrecks and the Takashima underwater site Using travel documents cargo manifests iconographic paintings and other descriptive resources as well as the archaeological evidence of hull components wooden timbers and iron remains Kimura sheds new light on East Asian shipbuilding traditions The Sea Voyage Narrative Robert Foulke,2013-10-11 From The Odyssey to Moby Dick to The Old Man and the Sea the long tradition of sea voyage narratives is comprehensively explained here supported by discussions of key texts The Archaeology of the Roman Economy Kevin Greene,1986 Ships And Maritime Landscapes Jerzy Gawronski,André van Holk,Joost Schokkenbroek,2017-09-25 This volume gathers 88 contributions related to the theme Ships and Maritime Landscapes of the Thirteenth International Symposium on Boat and Ship Archaeology ISBSA 13 held in Amsterdam on the 7th to 12th October 2012 The articles include both papers and poster presentations by experts in the field of nautical archaeology history of ships and shipbuilding and naval architecture The contributions deal not only with the theme of maritime landscapes but also with a variety of ship related subjects like regional watercraft construction and typology material applications and design outfitting reconstruction and current research The Philosophy of Shipbuilding Frederick M. Hocker,Cheryl A. Ward,2004 12 expert nautical archaeologists present the latest information from excavations and explore the conceptual basis for shipbuilding traditions Connected by the Sea Lucy Blue,Frederick M. Hocker,Anton Englert,2016-03-31 The 10th International Symposium on Boat and Ship Archaeology was held in Roskilde Denmark in 2003 The theme of the meeting was Connected by the Sea and was designed to emphasize the role of the sea seafaring and watercraft as bridges rather than barriers Maritime archaeology tends to take place within national borders with a national focus yet the very premise of seafaring is the desire to travel beyond the horizon to establish contact with other places and cultures The conference theme was chosen to encourage the maritime archaeological community to think in international terms Boat building in Winterton, Trinity Bay, Newfoundland David A. Taylor,2006-01-01 This revised edition of a classic work covers the history design construction and use of traditional wooden inshore fishing boats in the small town of Winterton on the shore of Trinity Bay Newfoundland Boatbuilding lore especially the dynamics of boat design and construction are seen from the perspective of the boat builders themselves and are discussed within the context of the community s social economic and natural environments Lavishly illustrated with photographs archival images drawings and line plans this book is a practical guide for boatbuilding enthusiasts and a valuable resource for scholars Published in English Nominating Historic Vessels and Shipwrecks to the National Register of Historic Places James P. Delgado,1987 Wisconsin Folklore James P. Leary,1999-01-15 Highly entertaining and richly informative Wisconsin Folklore offers the first comprehensive collection of writings about the surprisingly varied folklore of Wisconsin Beginning with a historical introduction to Wisconsin s folklore and concluding with an up to date bibliography this anthology offers more than fifty annotated and illustrated entries in five sections Terms and Talk Storytelling Music Song and Dance Beliefs and Customs and Material Traditions and Folklife The various contributors from 1884 to 1997 are anthropologists ethnomusicologists historians journalists museologists ordinary citizens reminiscing sociologists students writers of fiction practitioners of folklore and folklorists Their interests cover an enormous range of topics from Woodland Indian place names and German dialect expressions to Welsh nicknames and the jargon of apple pickers brewers and farmers from Ho Chunk and Ojibwa mythological tricksters and Paul Bunyan legends to stories of Polish strongmen and Ole and Lena jokes from Menominee dances and Norwegian fiddling and polka music to African American gospel groups and Hmong musicians from faith healers and wedding and funeral customs to seasonal ethnic festivities and tavern amusements and from spearing decoys and needlework to church dinners sacred shrines and the traditional work practices of commercial fishers tobacco growers and pickle packers For general readers teachers librarians and scholars alike Wisconsin Folklore exemplifies and illuminates Wisconsin s cultural traditions and establishes the state s significant but long neglected contributions to American folklore Reconstructing a Maritime Past Matthew Harpster,2022-12-30 Reconstructing a Maritime Past argues that rather than applying geo ethnic labels to shipwrecks to describe Greek or Roman seafaring a more intriguing alternative emphasizes a maritime culture s valorization of the Mediterranean Sea Doing so creates new questions and research agendas to understand the past human relationship with the sea This study makes this argument in three sections Chapters 1 and 2 contrasting intellectual histories of maritime archaeological interpretive approaches common in Northern Europe and the Mediterranean propose that the former perspective which embodies contemporary and fluid perceptions of culture is a better theoretical framework for future research Chapters 3 5 re interpret the corpus of submerged sites in the Mediterranean Sea with this approach arguing that this dataset does not represent Phoenician Muslim or Byzantine seafaring but the practices of a maritime culture Key to this section is the author s method that utilizes superimposed polygons to model patterns of maritime activity generating centennial results at different scales Having built the models of a maritime culture s valorization of the Mediterranean Sea Chapter 6 contains the first comparisons of these models to other datasets questioning the relevance of textual media to understand maritime activity while finding closer analogues with other archaeological corpora By deconstructing interpretive methods in maritime archaeology offering a new synthesizing interpretive approach that is scalable and decoupled from past perceptions and critically examining the applicability of various media to illuminate the past maritime experience this book will appeal to scholars at various stages of their careers Greek and Roman Technology: A Sourcebook Andrew N. Unger,2019-05-23 First published in 1997 this collection of articles two of which hitherto only appeared in Dutch examines the technical changes in shipbuilding as well as new practices in shipping and fishing from the late Middle Ages to the Industrial Revolution It seeks to show how these changes transformed the European economy and affected the relationship between the economy and governments and to portray the process although most dramatic in the Dutch Republic as part of a general European phenomenon The studies also investigate the causes of these developments and suggest how improvements in shipping may have affected patterns of trade and behaviour of public authorities The Economy of British America, 1607-1789 John J. McCusker,Russell R. Menard,2014-01-01 By the American Revolution the farmers and city dwellers of British America had achieved individually and collectively considerable prosperity The nature and extent of that success are still unfolding In this first comprehensive assessment of where research on prerevolutionary economy stands what it seeks to achieve and how it might best proceed the authors discuss those areas in which traditional work remains to be done and address new possibilities for a new economic history
