Architecture And Office Of Allford Hall Monaghan Morris:

Manual Iain Borden, Allford Hall Monaghan Morris, 2003-07-04 A hands on attitude to architecture trademark of the highly successful London based practice Allford Hall Monaghan Morris calls for more than the usual monograph According to Iain Borden Director of the Bartlett School of Architecture and author of this detailed guide to the practice of AHMM it calls for something more like a manual From Millenium Dome pavilion to medical centre and social housing for the Peabody Trust from office building refurbishment to primary school and the Walsall bus station the extra ordinary diversity of the AHMM s projects testifies to their creative energy optimism and eagerness to experiment AHMM four architects with numerous awards to their name and a rapidly growing international reputation for innovative pragmatic and cost effective solutions This publication presents their collected works fully detailed and with a wealth of illustrations Both monograph and manual because architecture is about more than appearances

In Detail, Work Environments Christian Schittich, 2012-12-10 The requirements confronting our workplaces have recently undergone a dramatic transformation Constantly shifting workspace populations and varying uses of workspace call for flexible spatial structures and so do new professions and innovative working methods The planning of workspaces is influenced by the digitalization of our storage media as well as by new materials and building technologies And yet for all the importance of flexibility and technology the ultimate focus is still on human beings How then can the multilayered concepts of indoor climate lighting acoustics and ergonomics be reconciled with spatial structures that lend themselves to a variety of uses In keeping with the typological approach of the series this volume of the series In Detail presents the various work environments organized according to use The focus throughout is on the successful interplay between technical standards organizational structures and human needs

Architecture in Detail II Graham Bizley, 2010 Presents 40 detailed studies of some of the most innovative buildings of recent years Intricate 3 dimensional cut away drawings explain in a clear and engaging way the construction of each building illuminated by photographs a brief description and comprehensive notes Focusing on issues such as low carbon construction prefabrication and craft the projects have been chosen for their use of innovative construction techniques

AHMM Neil Spiller, 2021-05-10 AHMM is a premier international architectural practice Established over 30 years ago it has won numerous awards including the Stirling Prize Through the contributions of journalists clients fellow professionals and academics this AD issue celebrates the practice s achievements in all areas of architectural production featuring archive material new works and unparalleled access to the AHMM organisation revealing new insights into their work and urban philosophies To get to this eminent position the office has consistently responded in innovative and imaginative ways to the changing imperatives of art science and economics that influence our built environment These parameters have metamorphosed considerably since AHMM was founded in terms of advances in digitisation material science and changes to contract management what constitutes sustainability procurement routes construction methods collaboration and architectural education Above all this AD will explore AHMM's practice as a holistic design project in itself in terms of building buildings but also in using a design ethos to cope with shifts in workload and the firm's varying business activities and its administration over the years thus providing insight for a future generation of potentially successful architectural professionals

Architectural Colour in the Professional Palette Fiona McLachlan, 2013-08-15 How do architects use color Do they adopt a different strategy or starting point for every project Do they gradually cultivate individual color palettes which develop alongside their body of built work Do they utilize or are they aware of the body of theoretical work that underpins the use of color in the past and forms the basis of most of the color systems commercially available today Informed by the author's thirty years in architectural practice and academia this book investigates documents and analyzes the work of a number of contemporary architects in order to respond to these questions and provide a clear reference of contemporary color use The book suggests a holistic approach to the integration of color in architecture through a series of thematic essays the text explores and reveals underlying principles in color design and application Case studies include AHMM Caruso St John Erich Wiesner and Otto Steidle Gigon Guyer O'Donnell Tuomey Sauerbruch Hutton Steven Holl UN Studio The book provides clear insights into how particular contemporary architects use color confidently and intelligently as an integral part of their design philosophy in conjunction with their choices of materials and finishes Offering a stimulating view of the history of color theory and pragmatic advice to practicing architects this book will be inspiring to both design professionals and students

The Subcultures Reader Ken Gelder, 2005 Revised and update completely to include new research and theories this second edition of a hugely successful book brings together a range of articles from big names in the field classic texts and new thinking on subcultures and their definitions Intersections of Space and Ethos Kyriaki Tsoukala, Nikolaos-Ion Terzoglou, Charikleia Pantelidou, 2014-12-05 The pressing economic environmental and social crises emanate the need for a redefinition of the dominant views perspectives and values in the field of architecture The intellectual production of the last two decades has witnessed an impressive number of new design techniques and conceptual displacements reflecting the dynamic and fluid relation between man and his dwelling space However the contemporary market forces are favouring the growth of a star system in architectural production based on technological innovation spectacular imagery and formal acrobatics and are neglecting the social environmental and moral implications of spatial design Perhaps the time has come to think anew the possible critical intersections between space and ethos not only as an answer to the negative consequences of Modernity but also as a remedy to the negative aspects of globalisation The aim of the present collective volume is to enliven the ethical dimensions and dilemmas of architecture as they are shaped within the complexity of our times on two levels the level of critical and reflective discourse and the level of social and cultural reality occasioned by post industrial modes of production and new technologies Thirteen distinguished academics and researchers investigate the complex relations between architecture space and ethics from divergent and inter disciplinary perspectives philosophy sociology the humanities the arts landscape design environmental design urban design and architectural history and theory The Good Life Zoë Ryan, 2006-09-28 The Good Life New Public Spaces For Recreation explores how architects designers landscape architects end artists are reinventing urban public spaces to meet the needs of 21st century recreation Chosen for their innovative solutions and high quality designs the seventy projects provide a cross section of some of the most interesting new spaces for leisure around the world BOOK JACKET Future Office Nicola Gillen, 2019-07-15 The office is dead Long live the office Despite decades of predictions that the office is on the verge of extinction it is surviving and thriving Of course things are changing And changing fast Digital technologies are transforming not only the work we do but also the ways our workplaces are designed built and operated Automation and AI mean that some jobs will no longer exist whilst others will be created But the very essence of the workplace human interaction and collaboration remains as necessary as ever In fact it is the human focus that is driving this new age with four generations now in the workplace together for the first time Taking an interdisciplinary approach this book discusses the impacts of these changes on the future of work and workplace The latest technologies are also explored from voice and digital twins to new materials such as graphene and battery powered buildings The Identity of the Architect Laura Iloniemi, 2019-12-23 Today there are more tools for communication than ever before yet very little in the way of reflection on how these are being used and even less on what exactly is being conveyed This issue of AD looks at how architecture is communicated from a cultural perspective Do the identities of practices or their business driven branding and promotional efforts resonate with the critical acclaim many architects seek Has slick image led media coverage sold the profession short How is it possible to convey the less visual and

haptic qualities of architecture Can architects be more creative in their communication efforts making these joyous on their own terms as Le Corbusier did so memorably Is there really a need to succumb to the world of corporate marketing processes and managerial business jargon The issue explores notions of editing and curating work in an age of data deluge and discusses social media as a genuinely alternative space for communication rather than for just repurposing and regurgitating information relayed The Identity of the Architect encourages the promotion of practices as an integral extension of the very culture they hope to engender through their work Contributors Stephen Bayley Caroline Cole Adam Nathaniel Furman Gabor Gallov Jonathan Glancey Justine Harvey Owen Hopkins Crispin Kelly Jay Merrick Robin Monotti Juhani Pallasmaa Vicky Richardson Jenny Sabin and Austin Williams Featured architects Ian Ritchie BIG MVRDV IF_DO and Zaha Hadid Architects

Building Globalization Xuefei Ren, 2011-04-15 From the years 2004 to 2008 Beijing and Shanghai witnessed the construction of an extraordinary number of new buildings many of which were designed by architectural firms overseas Combining ethnographic fieldwork historical research and network analysis Building Globalization closely scrutinizes the growing phenomenon of transnational architecture and its profound effect on the development of urban space Roaming from construction sites in Shanghai to architects offices in Paris Xuefei Ren interviews hundreds of architects developers politicians residents and activists to explore this issue She finds that in the rapidly transforming cities of modern China iconic designs from prestigious international architects help private developers to distinguish their projects government officials to advance their careers and the Chinese state to announce the arrival of modern China on the world stage China leads the way in the globalization of architecture a process whose ramifications can be felt from Beijing to Dubai to Basel Connecting the dots between real estate speculation megaproject construction residential displacement historical preservation housing rights and urban activism Building Globalization reveals the contradictions and consequences of this new global urban frontier

Sustainable Retrofitting of Commercial Buildings Simon Burton, 2014-10-03 Whilst sustainability is already an important driver in the new building sector this book explores how those involved in refurbishment of commercial building are moving this agenda forward It includes chapters by developers surveyors cost consultants architects building physicists and other players on the role they each can play in enabling refurbishment to be commercially environmentally and socially sustainable Case studies from northern climates show real examples of different building types ages and uses and will demonstrate what action has been taken to create more sustainable buildings The chapters raise and discuss all the relevant issues that need to be considered in retrofitting decision making Changing standards planning process management financing technical issues site organisation commissioning and subsequent building management are all considered The book demonstrates that buildings can be made comfortable to occupy easy to manage and low in energy demand and environmental impact

Why Architects Matter Flora Samuel, 2018-03-09 Why Architects Matter examines the key role of research led ethical architects in promoting wellbeing sustainability and innovation It argues that the profession needs to be clear about what it knows and the value of what it knows if it is to work successfully with others Without this clarity the marginalization of architects from the production of the built environment will continue preventing clients businesses and society from getting the buildings that they need The book offers a strategy for the development of a twenty first century knowledge led built environment including tools to help evidence develop and communicate that value to those outside the field Knowing how to demonstrate the impact and value of their work will strengthen practitioners ability to pitch for work and access new funding streams This is particularly important at a time of global economic downturn with ever greater competition for contracts and funds driving down fees and making it imperative to prove value at every level Why Architects Matter straddles the spheres of Practice Management and Law History and Theory Design Housing Sustainability Health Marketing and Advice for Clients bringing them into an accessible whole The book will therefore be of interest to professional architects architecture students and anyone with an interest in our built environment and the role of professionals within it

Integrating Care Justin De Syllas, 2015-06-12 This book provides a timely review of the contemporary interpretation of the comprehensive health centre a building type that was originally advocated by health reformers in the UK in the first half of the twentieth century The book discusses the development of this idea the failure under the NHS to apply the idea in practice in the second half of the century and the recent emergence in all four regions of the UK of comprehensive health centres providing a wide range of health and social services often linked to other community facilities A review of the latest developments in comprehensive health centre design forms the core of the book in the form of detailed case studies of ten exemplary recent projects Generously illustrated in full colour the case studies include plans diagrams photographs and analytical text providing the reader with detailed information about a range of design approaches Following devolution NHS health policies in England Scotland Northern Ireland and Wales have begun to diverge and the role of the comprehensive health centre in the current health service of each country is assessed Aimed at professionals healthcare facilities providers and policy makers the book also considers the opportunities for and obstacles facing the further development of the comprehensive health centre as an integral part of the infrastructure of the NHS in the future
