Heidegger and Leibniz R. Cristin, 1998-07-31 Cristin philosophy U of Trieste begins by analyzing the concept of foundation reason as a different option made by the two German philosophers He characterizes Heidegger's critique as a reflection on the meaning and essence of reason and the foundation representing a considerable displacement of them such that infallible theoretical mechanisms and indubitable phenomenal substrata no longer exist He then discusses what the two think about thinking and suggests that they may come close to agreeing on what Heidegger calls meditating Finally he ponders the hypothesis that Heidegger's thinking on Being contains an original mingling of rational and meditating thought that echoes inchoate concepts in Leibniz No subject index Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Labyrinths of Democracy Heinz Eulau, Kenneth Prewitt, 1973

The Idea of the Labyrinth from Classical Antiquity through the Middle Ages Penelope Reed Doob, 2019-03-15 Ancient and medieval labyrinths embody paradox according to Penelope Reed Doob Their structure allows a double perspective the baffling fragmented prospect confronting the maze treader within and the comprehensive vision available to those without Mazes simultaneously assert order and chaos artistry and confusion articulated clarity and bewildering complexity perfected pattern and hesitant process In this handsomely illustrated book Doob reconstructs from a variety of literary and visual sources the idea of the labyrinth from the classical period through the Middle Ages Doob first examines several complementary traditions of the maze topos showing how ancient historical and geographical writings generate metaphors in which the labyrinth signifies admirable complexity while poetic texts tend to suggest that the labyrinth is a sign of moral duplicity She then describes two common models of the labyrinth and explores their formal implications the unicursal model with no false turnings found almost universally in the visual arts and the multicursal model with blind alleys and dead ends characteristic of literary texts This paradigmatic clash between the labyrinths of art and of literature becomes a key to the metaphorical potential of the maze as Doob's examination of a vast array of materials from the classical period through the Middle Ages suggests She concludes with linked readings of four labyrinths of words Virgil's Aeneid Boethius' Consolation of Philosophy Dante's Divine Comedy and Chaucer's House of Fame each of which plays with and transforms received ideas of the labyrinth as well as reflecting and responding to aspects of the texts that influenced it Doob not only provides fresh theoretical and historical perspectives on the labyrinth tradition but also portrays a complex medieval aesthetic that helps us to approach structurally elaborate early works Readers in such fields as Classical literature Medieval Studies Renaissance Studies comparative literature literary theory art history and intellectual history will welcome this wide ranging and illuminating book

Centaurs, Rioting in Thessaly: Memory and the Classical World Martyn Hudson, 2018-01-07 This book treads new paths through the labyrinths of our human thought It meanders through the darkness to encounter the monsters at the heart of the maze Minotaurs Centaurs Automata Makers Humans One part of our human thought emerges from classical Ionia and Greek civilisation more generally We obsessively return to that thought tread again its pathways re-enact its stories repeat its motifs and gestures We return time and time again to construct and re-construct the beings which were part of its cosmology and mythology stories enacted from a classical world which is itself at once imaginary and material The Never Never Lands of the ancient world contain fabulous beasts and humans and landscapes of desire and violence We encounter the rioting Centaurs there and never again cease to conjure them up time and time again through our history The Centaur mythologies display a fascination with animals and what binds and divides human beings from them The Centaur hints ultimately at the idea of the genesis of civilisation itself The Labyrinth constructed by Daedalus is itself a prison and a way of thinking about making designing and human aspiration Designed by humans it offers mysteries that would be repeated time and time again a motif which is replicated through human history Daedalus himself is an archetype for creation and mastery the designer of artefacts and machines which would be the beginning of forays into the total domination of nature Centaurs Labyrinths Automata offer clues to the origins and ultimately the futures of humanity and what might come after it Martyn Hudson is the coordinator of the Co Curate North East digital archives and machines project at Newcastle University in the School of Arts
