Contemporary Master Prints From The Lilj:

The Art of Collaboration Jane Kinsman, 2002 This book celebrates master printer Kenneth Tyler's creative collaboration with key artists of the post war American art scene. It reproduces works in the National Gallery's collection of editioned original prints, screens, paper works, illustrated books, and multiples, along with rare and unique proofs and drawings from the Tyler workshop. Artists such as Josef Albers, Helen Frankenthaler, David Hockney, Jasper Johns, Roy Lichtenstein, Robert Motherwell, Robert Rauschenberg, and Frank Stella produced some of their finest works with Tyler in an atmosphere where collaboration engaged heart and mind, inspired innovation, response and reaction, and the printer shaped his approach to each particular artist's needs.

Contemporary Master Prints from the Lilja Collection Torsten Lilja, 1995 With a personal introduction by the collector, the present volume celebrates this continuing engagement through full colour reproductions of 201 prints, most from the Lilja Collection, by Dine, Hockney, Johns, Lichtenstein, Rauschenberg, Rosenquist, and Stella, and interviews with printmakers and publishers. Further articles narrate the historical background to the modern American print and explore the future of the medium in a world of ever developing technologies and shifting terminologies.

Street Corner Society is one of a handful of works that can justifiably be called classics of sociological research. William Foote Whyte's account of the Italian American slum he called Cornerville, Boston's North End, has been the model for urban ethnography for fifty years. By mapping the intricate social worlds of street gangs and corner boys, Whyte was among the first to demonstrate that a poor community need not be socially disorganized. His writing set a standard for vivid portrayals of real people in real situations. And his frank discussion of his methodology, participant observation, has served as an essential casebook in field research for generations of students and scholars. This fiftieth anniversary edition includes a new preface and revisions to the methodological appendix. In a new section on the book's legacy, Whyte responds to recent challenges to the validity, interpretation, and uses of his data. The Whyte Impact on the Underdog: the moving statement by a gang leader who became the author's first research assistant is preserved. Street Corner Society broke new ground and set a standard for field research in American cities that remains a source of intellectual challenge.

Jim Dine Marco Livingstone, Jim Dine, 1998 Jim Dine has produced more than three thousand paintings, sculptures, drawings, and prints, as well as performance works, stage and book designs, poetry, and even music. His art has been the subject of numerous individual and group shows and is in the permanent collections of museums around the world. This illustrated volume, full of fresh insights and incorporating short essays by Dine himself, is the most comprehensive study ever published on his work.
