Contracts In Trade And Transition The Resurgence Of Barter:

Contracts in Trade and Transition Dalia Marin, Monika Schnitzer, 2002-01-01 An institutional approach to explaining countertrade and barter in international trade and domestic trade in transition economies

Contracts in Trade and Transition Dalia Marin, Monika Schnitzer, 2003-01-01 An institutional approach to explaining countertrade and barter in international trade and domestic trade in transition economies Difficulties in contract enforcement impede international transactions in the world economy and domestic transactions in transition economies In Contracts in Trade and Transition Dalia Marin and Monika Schnitzer explain how barter as an economic institution can facilitate contract enforcement across national borders in international trade and within borders in transition countries The authors show that international countertrade tying an export to an import emerged in the 1980s in response to the international debt crisis when Western creditors refused to finance imports to developing countries and Eastern Europe Barter the exchange of goods without the use of money reemerged in transition economies in the 1990s in response to a domestic debt crisis when banks in transition countries were reluctant to provide finance to firms Countertrade and barter introduce a deal specific form of collateral that addresses the lack of creditworthiness of countries and firms Drawing on contract theory the authors argue that parties might want to pay in goods rather than cash or link an export with an import as in countertrade to solve incentive problems that otherwise would prevent any trade from taking place The incentive problems they discuss are the technology transfer problem to developing countries and the lack of trust problem in the former Soviet Union

Incentives and Economic Behaviour Rolf Hasse, Uwe Vollmer, 2005 Aus Sicht der Neuen Institutionen konomik bestimmen staatlich gesetzte oder spontan entstandene Anreize das konomische Verhalten Diese ordnungs konomische Erkenntnis ist nicht nur Bestandteil der Volkswirtschaftslehre sondern auch der Betriebswirtschaftslehre und der Wirtschaftsinformatik Im vorliegenden Band wird der Zusammenhang zwischen Anreizen und konomischer Effizienz am Beispiel ausgew hltter Themenbereiche diskutiert Dabei wird deutlich dass die Neue Institutionen konomik eine inhaltliche Klammer zwischen verschiedenen konomischen Nachbardisziplinen bildet

International Commercial Agreements and Electronic Commerce William F. Fox, 2018-03-26 Although negotiation still lies at the heart of international commercial agreements much of the detail has migrated to the Internet and has become part of electronic commerce This incomparable one volume work now in its sixth edition with its deeply informed emphasis on both the face to face and electronic components of setting up and performing an international commercial agreement stands alone among contract drafting guides and has proven its enduring worth Following its established highly practical format the book s much appreciated precise information on a wide variety of issues including those pertaining to intellectual property alternative dispute resolution and regional differences is of course still here in this new edition There is new and updated material on such matters as the following the need for contract drafters to understand and to use the concepts of standardization i e the work of the International Organization for Standardization ISO

as a contract drafting tool new developments and technical progress in e commerce new developments in artificial intelligence in contract drafting the possible use of electronic currencies such as Bitcoin as a payment device foreign direct investment special considerations inherent in drafting licensing agreements online dispute resolution including the innovations referred to as the robot arbitrator changes in the arbitration rules of major international organizations and assessment of possible future trends in international commercial arrangements Each chapter provides numerous references to additional sources including a large number of websites Materials from and citations to appropriate literature in languages other than English are also included In its recognition that a business executive entering into an international commercial transaction is mainly interested in drafting an agreement that satisfies all of the parties and that will be performed as promised this superb guide will immeasurably assist any lawyer or business executive to plan and carry out individual transactions even when that person is not interested in a full blown understanding of the entire landscape of international contracts Business executives who are not lawyers will find that this book gives them the understanding and perspective necessary to work effectively with the legal experts

How Ukraine Became a Market Economy and Democracy Anders Åslund, 2009 Unlocking Opportunities in Sub-Saharan Africa Chidi Okoro, Aderonke Makanju, Francis Ojadi, 2024-09-25 Emerging markets like many countries in sub-Saharan Africa present evident opportunities for products and services companies Many organisations see these markets as the next frontiers however tapping into this opportunity usually comes with the challenge of achieving sustainable profitability Over time these emerging markets especially those in Africa have been through consistently high growth and also experienced declines This book seeks to explain the scenario and shares a framework for how organisations should approach such emerging markets to achieve sustainable success It explains via illustrations and cases how organisations will need to be mindful of the volatility ahead and build that into the plan through a combination of the approaches to customer insight product portfolio development value creation route to market design and execution product promotions the place of technology in unlocking opportunities human resources practices supply chain ethical considerations in competing and winning at the base of the pyramid in Sub-Saharan Africa Encyclopedia of Business Ethics and Society Robert W. Kolb, 2008 This encyclopedia spans the relationships among business ethics and society with an emphasis on business ethics and the role of business in society Organizational Wrongdoing as the "Foundational" Grand Challenge Claudia Gabbioneta, Marco Clemente, Royston Greenwood, 2023-07-24 Organizational Wrongdoing as the Foundational Grand Challenge Definitions and Antecedents consolidates and extends knowledge on the subject of organizational wrongdoing and highlights potential directions for future research Lawlessness and Economics Avinash K. Dixit, 2011-10-23 How can property rights be protected and contracts be enforced in countries where the rule of law is ineffective or absent How can firms from advanced market economies do business in such circumstances In Lawlessness and Economics Avinash Dixit examines the theory of private institutions that transcend or supplement weak economic governance from the state In much of the world and through much of history private mechanisms such as long term relationships arbitration social networks to disseminate information and norms to impose sanctions and for profit enforcement services have grown up in place of formal state governed institutions Even in countries with strong legal systems many of these mechanisms continue under the shadow of the law Numerous case studies and empirical investigations have demonstrated the variety importance and merits and drawbacks of such institutions This book builds on these studies and constructs a toolkit of theoretical models to analyze them The models shed new conceptual light on the different modes of governance and deepen our understanding of the interaction of the alternative institutions with each other and with the government's law For example one model explains the limit on the size of social networks and illuminates problems in the transition to more formal legal systems as economies grow beyond this limit Other models explain why for profit enforcement is inefficient The models also help us understand why state law dovetails with some non state institutions and collides with others This can help less developed countries and transition economies devise better processes for the introduction or reform of their formal legal systems Journal of Institutional and Theoretical Economics, 2003

Competitiveness of New Europe Jan Winiecki, 2008-08-08 Edited by a leading scholar in transition economics this book examines the nations that make up the so called New Europe to look at the economic competitiveness in comparison with each other and the rest of Europe

The Tapestry of Culture Abraham Rosman, professor emeritus, Barnard College, Columbia University, Paula G. Rubel, professor emerita, Barnard College, Columbia University, Maxine Weisgrau, Barnard College, Columbia University, 2009-06-16 The most exciting thing about anthropology is that it enables the student to become acquainted with people of different cultures The Tapestry of Culture provides the student with the basic concepts necessary to understand these different cultures while showing that cultural variations occur within certain limits Though the forces of globalization have caused cultures of the world around us to become increasingly similar the book shows that people nevertheless cling to ethnic identities and their cultural distinctiveness

Structural Reforms Without Prejudices Tito Boeri, Giorgio Barba Navaretti, 2006-06-15 Our economies face constant challenges from many different directions Structural reforms are implemented every day either to grasp the benefits of globalization and technological change or to avoid foundering on unaffordable welfare systems or the rise of new economies Despite this flurry of reforms many of their effects are insufficiently understood What makes reforms a success or a failure Why do we witness systematically ambivalent attitudes to reforms Can governments implement reforms differently without inflicting prejudice to large fringes of the population This book explores these issues by comparing a number of reforms across a large set of countries and sectors First through an innovative multisectorial input output analysis the authors compare the effects of liberalisation reforms in the telecommunication and electricity sectors across Europe Surprisingly they find that very similar and well intended reforms can generate highly contrasted outcomes It is also shown that governments must consider the effects of each reform on all sectors of the economy Second the authors explore how governments can tailor their reform strategy to alter the redistributive effects of reforms They show that the government's approach to reforms has been very different across time and across countries A government's approach depends on local institutions on the nature of the opposition and on the scope of the reform under way The authors however show that governments do have alternatives Often there are ways to tailor reforms so as to protect specific parts of the population and there are ways to experiment gradually to avoid costly policy mistakes

Collateral Knowledge Annelise Riles, 2011-05 Who are the agents of financial regulation Is good or bad financial governance merely the work of legislators and regulators Here Annelise Riles argues that financial governance is made not just through top down laws and policies but also through the daily use of mundane legal techniques such as collateral by a variety of secondary agents from legal technicians and retail investors to financiers and academics and even computerized trading programs Drawing upon her ten years of ethnographic fieldwork in the Japanese derivatives market Riles explores the uses of collateral in the financial markets as a regulatory device for stabilizing market transactions How collateral operates Riles suggests is paradigmatic of a class of low profile mundane but indispensable activities and practices that are all too often ignored as we think about how markets should work and be governed Riles seeks to democratize our understanding of legal techniques and demonstrate how these day to day private actions can be reformed to produce more effective forms of market regulation The Tapestry of Culture Abraham Rosman, Paula G. Rubel, Maxine Weisgrau, 2017-01-12 The most exciting thing about anthropology is that it enables the student to become acquainted with people of different cultures The Tapestry of Culture provides the student with the basic concepts necessary to understand these different cultures while showing that cultural variations occur within certain limits Though the forces of globalization have caused cultures of the world around us to become increasingly similar the book shows that people nevertheless cling to ethnic identities and their cultural distinctiveness The tenth edition of this popular textbook incorporates new material throughout such as ethnographic examples in every chapter strengthened discussions of gender transnationalism and globalization and more To enhance the experience of both instructors and students the tenth edition is accompanied by a learning package that includes an instructor s manual with outlines key terms discussion questions lists of films and other resources and more a test bank and a companion website Welfare in an Idle Society? Bernd Marin, 2017-10-24 The modern welfare state is indeed one of the greatest achievements of the post war 20th century With its key aims of eradicating the five giant social ills of Want Ignorance Disease Squalor and Idleness it aimed to providing a minimum standard of living with all people of working age paying a weekly contribution in return benefits would be paid to anyone who was sick unemployed retired or widowed The modern welfare state therefore is about maintaining a delicate equilibrium between dependent social groups on the one hand and the active working classes on the other In the case of old age security this balance is being achieved or not by the so called Generation Contract This social pact is more of an implicit unwritten and unspecified social contract This ground breaking book demonstrates how countries are addressing population ageing challenges in depth using the case study of Austria to gain the required complexity and differentiation in a comparative European framework of empirical evidence This is a broad social science study in political economy and sociology not an economic analysis Though focusing on pensions it centres on the im balance between work and non work issues of health work ability employability and benefit receipt from old age security to disability allowance It will be required reading for all sociologists and social policy experts and academics working within this area
