Coping with a Hospital Stay Sharon Carter, Judy Monnig, 1987 Offers tips to teenagers on handling a stay in the hospital including checking into the hospital asking your doctor questions coping with visitors relieving boredom and keeping up with school work Stress and Coping in Nursing Roy D. Bailey, Margaret Clarke, 2013-11-11 Increasingly stress as a concept is being used as an explanation of a wide variety of negative phenomena which are experienced by all people but which include nurses in particular and their patients Nursing has been identified as a high stress profession and one can hardly pick up a nursing journal or even read a newspaper article about nursing without finding the word stress used liberally Examples of its use are found in relation to sickness absence rates high level of nursing staff turnover discontent in nursing the effects of unemployment the effects of overwork having too much responsibility having too little responsibility or control the effects of constantly giving emotionally to others the causes of illness the effects of going into hospital delayed healing anxiety depression and alcoholism Given the heterogeneous nature of these phenomena some of which are the diametric opposite of others and that they are clearly being attributed to the one concept stress then that concept must necessarily be of importance within people's lives Or is it perhaps just a fashionable global but ultimately empty explanation Roy Bailey and I believe that stress is an extremely important concept Indeed we would argue that it is a meta concept rather than a concept which does indeed serve to explain many disparate phenomena Stress and Coping Across Development Tiffany M. Field, Philip McCabe, Neil Schneiderman, 2013-12-19 This is the second volume based on the annual University of Miami Symposia on Stress and Coping The present volume is focused on some representative stresses and coping mechanisms that occur during different stages of development including infancy childhood and adulthood Accordingly the volume is divided into three sections for those three stages Delivering Person-Centred Care in Nursing Bob Price, 2022-01-12 Delivering holistic person centred care is at the heart of the nursing role This book will develop your understanding of what person centred care actually means and how to apply it to assessment and the planning delivery and management of care enhancing all aspects of your practice Key features Each chapter is mapped to the NMC Standards 2018 Two parts take you from the underpinning theory and philosophy through to practical application and person centred care in action Case studies and activities encourage you to reflect on your own experiences and how the themes of person centred care are applied in practice The Royal Marsden Manual of Clinical Nursing Procedures, Student Edition Sara Lister, Justine Hofland, Hayley Grafton, Catherine Wilson, 2021-04-13 The student edition of The Royal Marsden Manual of Clinical Nursing Procedures has been the definitive market leading textbook of clinical nursing skills for fifteen years This

Kostelnik, Albert I. Rabin, Lillian A. Phenice, Anne K. Soderman, 2013-12-01 The United Nations designation of 1979 as the International Year of the Child marked the first global effort undertaken to heighten awareness of the special needs of children. Activities initiated during this special year were designed to promote purposive and collaborative actions for the benefit of children throughout the world. Michigan State University's celebration of the International Year of the Child was held from September 1979 through June 1980. A variety of activities focused attention on the multiplicity of factors affecting the welfare of today's children as well as the children of the future. Many people involved with the university were concerned that benefits to children continue beyond the official time allocated to the celebration. The series Child Nurturance is one response to this concern. The first five volumes of Child Nurturance reflect directly the activities held on the Michigan State University campus and consist of original contributions from guest speakers and invited contributors. Subsequent biennial volumes will present original contributions from individuals representing such fields as anthropology, biology, education, human ecology, psychology, philosophy, sociology, and medicine. We hope the material presented in these volumes will promote greater understanding of children and encourage interdisciplinary inquiry into the individual, family, societal, and cultural variables which influence their welfare and development. We would like to express both our thanks and our admiration for Margaret Burritt who not only typed the camera-ready copy for each of the volumes but also served as general manager of the entire project. The Dynamics of Care Eric Wolstenholme, Douglas McKelvie, 2019-10-10 This book describes numerous projects which shed light on some of the most persistent issues of the day in health and social care. The work demonstrates the importance of embedding the concept of flow into everyday health and social care thinking and creates insights into patient journeys through different conditions and treatments. It suggests that improving throughput across agencies is the key way to improving the performance of health treatment, whereas increasing capacity is the key way to improving the performance of social care by retaining independent living. The authors conclude that for state-provided care, balancing health and social care provision can eliminate the many stressful fire-fighting strategies hospitals have to undertake when faced with high demands, and this is a win-win scenario in terms of patients, staff, and costs. Further, that there is a need for better understanding of the dynamics of population ageing the dynamics of health conditions and the provision of better integrated information systems The book will be a valuable resource for practitioners clinicians managers and academics in health social work public health and public policy in many countries In this important book Eric Wolstenholme and Douglas McKelvie bring two lifetimes of award winning experience in applying system dynamics to improving our very clinically advanced but often dysfunctional care systems David F Andersen O Leary Distinguished Service Professor Emeritus State University of New York Albany USA Health and social care suffer from some persistent and serious problems which not only undermine well intended care but also impose considerable costs in many societies This very welcome and exceptional book offers the hope of sound and sustainable solutions to many of these issues Kim Warren Strategy Dynamics London UK Coping with Cancer ,1980 Maternal Child Nursing Care - E-Book Shannon E.
