Corpus Approaches To Critical Metaphor Analysis:

Corpus Approaches to Critical Metaphor Analysis Jonathan Charteris-Black, 2004-02-17 In a stimulating and novel approach this book explains why metaphors are persuasive suggesting that they are ideologically effective because they are cognitively plausible and evoke an emotional response Critical Metaphor Analysis is then developed in a series of corpus based studies in which analysis of collocations provides insight into the cognitive motivation and expressive connotation of metaphor By unifying traditional and cognitive semantic with pragmatic approaches the reader becomes aware of the importance of metaphor in persuasive language Creation Language in Romans 8 Gregory P. Fewster, 2013-04-04 Modern scholarship tends to understand Paul's use of creation language in Rom 8 18-23 as part of a commentary on the state of sub-human creation This misguided position warrants an inquiry into the state of lexical study in New Testament scholarship As a result Fewster articulates a theory of lexical monosemy cast in the framework of Systemic Functional Linguistics The model is applied to Paul's use of through a robust corpus analysis and investigation into the word's role within the paragraph contributes to the cohesive structure of Rom 8 18-23 and contra the majority of interpreters functions as a metaphor for the human body

An Introduction to Religious Language Valerie Hobbs, 2020-12-10 Religious language is all around us embedded in advertising politics and news media This book introduces readers to the field of theolinguistics the study of religious language Investigating the ways in which people talk to and about God about the sacred and about religion itself it considers why people make certain linguistic choices and what they accomplish Introducing the key methods required for examining religious language Valerie Hobbs acquaints readers with the most common and important theolinguistic features and their functions Using critical corpus assisted discourse analysis with a focus on archaic and other lexical features metaphor agency and intertextuality she examines religious language in context Highlighting its use in both expected locations such as modern day prayer and politics and unexpected locations including advertising sport healthcare and news media Hobbs analyses the shifting and porous linguistic boundaries between the religious and the secular With discussion questions and further readings for each chapter as well as a companion website featuring suggested answers to the reflection tasks this is the ideal introduction to the study of religious language

Academic Irregularities Liz Morrish, Helen Sauntson, 2019-08-23 This volume serves as a critical examination of the discourses at play in the higher education system and the ways in which these discourses underpin the transmission of neoliberal values in 21st century universities Situated within a Critical Discourse Analysis based framework the book also draws upon other linguistic approaches including corpus linguistics and appraisal analysis to unpack the construction and development of the management style known as managerialism emergent in the 1990s US and UK higher education systems and the social dynamics and power relations embedded within the discourses at the heart of managerialism in today's universities Each chapter introduces a particular aspect of neoliberal discourse in higher education and uses these multiple linguistic approaches to analyze linguistic data in two case studies and demonstrate these principles at work This multi layered systematic linguistic framework allows for a nuanced exploration of neoliberal institutional discourse and its implications for academic labor offering a critique of the managerial system in higher education but also a larger voice for alternative discursive narratives within the academic community This important work is a key resource for students and scholars in applied linguistics Critical Discourse Analysis sociology business and management studies education and cultural studies

Covering Bin Laden Susan Jeffords, Fahed Al-Sumait, 2015-01-30 Starting in 2001 much of the world media used the image of Osama bin Laden as a shorthand for terrorism Bin Laden himself considered media manipulation on a par with military political and ideological tools and intentionally used interviews taped speeches and distributed statements to further al Qaida's ends In Covering Bin Laden editors Susan Jeffords and Fahed Yahya Al Sumait collect perspectives from global scholars exploring a startling premise that media depictions of Bin Laden not only diverge but often contradict each other depending on the media provider and format the place in which the depiction is presented and the viewer's political and cultural background The contributors analyze the representations of the many Bin Ladens ranging from Al Jazeera broadcasts to video games They examine the media's dominant role in shaping our understanding of terrorists and why how they should be feared and they engage with the ways the mosaic of Bin Laden images and narratives have influenced policies and actions around the world Contributors include Fahed Al Sumait Saranaz Barforoush Aditi Bhatia Purnima Bose Ryan Croken Simon Ferrari Andrew Hill Richard Jackson Susan Jeffords Joanna Margueritte Giecewicz Noha Mellor Susan Moeller Brigitte Nacos Courtney C Radsch and Alexander Spencer

Studying Scientific Metaphor in Translation Mark Shuttleworth, 2017-03-16 Studying Scientific Metaphor in Translation presents a multilingual examination of the translation of metaphors Mark Shuttleworth explores this facet of translation and develops a theoretically nuanced description of the procedures that translators have recourse to when translating metaphorical language Drawing on a core corpus consisting of six Scientific American articles in the fields of neurobiology and biotechnology dating from 2004 along with their translations into Chinese French German Italian Polish and Russian Shuttleworth provides a data driven and theoretically informed picture of the processes that underpin metaphor translation The book builds interdisciplinary bridges between translation scholars and metaphor researchers proposes a new set of procedures for metaphor translation conceived within the context of descriptive translation studies and puts forward a possible resolution to the debate on metaphor translatability Ayatollah Khomeini Through the Lens of the Iran-Iraq War Meysam Tayebipour, 2023-01-01 This book clarifies Khomeini's views on nationalism, sectarianism and peace and war by putting the Iran-Iraq war at center of understanding of Khomeini's ideology. Moreover, by making comparisons between Khomeini's thoughts before and after the revolution with his words during the Iran-Iraq war, this book helps us see how his discourse during the conflict was shaped by such thoughts. Also, such a comparison helps us understand the complexities of Khomeini's doctrines and their evolutions. Additionally, by offering a unique set of methodological tools, this book introduces a new way to study political leaders in Iran and other parts of the Middle East.

Metaphor in Use Fiona MacArthur, Jose Luis Oncins-Martinez, Manuel Sánchez-García, Ana María Piquer-Píriz, 2012 Metaphor is a fascinating phenomenon but it is also complex and multi-faceted, varying in how it is manifested in different modes of expression, languages, cultures or time scales. How then can we reliably identify metaphors in different contexts? How does the language or culture of speakers and hearers affect the way metaphors are produced or interpreted? Are the methods employed to explore metaphors in one context applicable in others? The sixteen chapters that make up this volume offer not only detailed studies of the situated use of metaphor in language, gesture and visuals around the world, providing important insights into the different factors that produce variation, but also careful explication and discussion of the methodological issues that arise when researchers approach metaphor in diverse real-world contexts. The book constitutes an important contribution to applied metaphor studies and will prove an invaluable resource for the novice and experienced metaphor researcher alike.

Contemporary Critical Discourse Studies Christopher Hart, Piotr Cap, 2014-11-07 CDS is a multifarious field constantly developing different methodological frameworks for analysing dynamically evolving aspects of language in a broad range of socio-political and institutional contexts. This volume is a cutting-edge interdisciplinary account of these theoretical and empirical developments. It presents an up-to-date survey of Critical Discourse Studies (CDS), covering both the theoretical landscape and the analytical territories that it extends over. It is intended for critical scholars and students who wish to keep abreast of the current state of the art. The book is divided into two parts. In the first part, the chapters are organised around different methodological perspectives for CDS: history, cognition, multimodality and corpora, among others. In the second part, the chapters are organised around particular discourse types and topics investigated in CDS, both traditionally (e.g. issues of racism and gender inequality) and only more recently (e.g. issues of health, public policy and the environment). This is altogether an essential new reference work for all CDS practitioners.
